Why the Change?

Stand up accreditation organizations in FY02 that will perform accreditation in TRADOC. Focus on POIs, personnel, and infrastructure. Not an inspection only – team will provide staff assistance. Training institutions conduct self-assessment – applies to branch schools, TASS battalions, NCOAs, ATCs and WHINSEC. Jan 01

TRADOC proponent schools will establish Quality Assurance Offices to conduct internal and external evaluations, conduct accreditation self-assessments, and accredit RC training battalions. QAOs will include Title XI personnel who conduct accreditation of the RC training battalions. 11 Apr 02

Why the Change?

- Plan supports Active Component and Reserve Component integration by creating a single Army program from two similar component-oriented programs.
- Accomplishment of this realignment will:
  - Improve accreditation standardization across all proponents and functionally aligned TASS training battalions.
  - Require improved coordination between proponents and TASS training battalions.
  - Provide linkage in the TRADOC Title XI program at the Center level
  - Fulfill TRADOC's obligation to return a significant portion of the AGR personnel investment to the USAR and ARNG.

TASS Support Structure Mission

Assist TRADOC in preparing the Army for full spectrum operations by finalizing the successful implementation of TASS to ensure an efficient, fully integrated educational system that guarantees soldiers of all components are trained to a single standard.
